

ANTI-CHURCH LAW EFFECTIVE ON SATURDAY

Mexican Army Ready to Enforce Government Regulations

THOUSANDS RUSH TO BE CONFIRMED

People Fear All Religious Functions Will Cease August 1

MEXICO CITY, Mex., July 24.—The Mexican government is going ahead with its program of putting into effect and enforcing its new religious regulations at midnight next Saturday.

Denial has been given by the government officials that all the federal troops have been instructed to be ready for action in case there is disorder August 1, but it was noted that such an order might be issued if it should be necessary.

Stop Religious Teaching. President Calles has proclaimed the supplementary law which forbids religious teaching in private schools. Those provisions that are being enforced by the government are that no religious teaching is to be given in private schools. Those provisions that are being enforced by the government are that no religious teaching is to be given in private schools.

Various schools which already have been closed or are expected to be closed by the government at border points in the United States, thus making Mexican families with little trouble to send their children across the frontier to receive religious instruction.

Enormous crowds continue daily to invade the churches to worship or to have children confirmed or baptized, being fearful that on August 1 all church functions will cease.

Series of Financial Bills to Be Presented Next Week

There was another attempt last night at baiting visitors to Paris. Ten anti-foreign demonstrators of previous days looted and injured foreigners who were going on sight-seeing tours to the Louvre. A large force of police quickly restored the demonstration.

Save the Children

In Summer When Child Abuses Are Most Dangerous

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may rest assured that their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. These harmless tablets relieve the most common troubles of children in summer—coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, and diarrhea. They are especially good for summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold at medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Co., Brockville, Ont.

SATURDAY, JULY 24, 1926.

The West Goes Out.

Premier King represented Prince Albert in the last Parliament and is to contest that seat again at the elections.

Premier Meighen represented Portage in the last Parliament and will presumably run again for that seat.

Including the Premiers, both of whom sat for Western seats—

The Prairie Provinces, commonly known as Western Canada, were represented by four Ministers in the Mackenzie King Government against two at present and three in the Meighen Government. So far as numbers go the prairie country lost half its cabinet representation when the Mackenzie King Government went out and the Meighen Government went in.

Western Control Destroyed.

That is not the sum total of the loss. In the Mackenzie King Government the Department of Railways, the Department of Agriculture and the Department of the Interior were all in charge of men from the prairies.

That is to say, of men who were personally in touch with the conditions in that part of Canada where there is the largest room for expansion, settlement and development, and men who were personally answerable for their administration and policy to voters living in that part of Canada.

Those three Departments were in charge of the Prairie Provinces, the Departments of Railways and Agriculture, the Departments whose policy and administration have more to do directly with the shaping of conditions in Western Canada than those of all the other Departments combined.

With those three Departments headed by Western men and administered with a clear and intimate understanding of Western resources, opportunities and requirements, the West could not do other than make progress.

Western Prestige Wrecked.

In the Meighen Government the sole representative of the great prairie section of Canada, excepting the Premier, is the Minister of Finance, whose primary business in life is to devise ways and means to get money out of the taxpayers.

The Department of Railways, now in control of a representative of the Maritime provinces, who, whatever his virtues, is not in the remotest degree interested in the building of the branch railways in Western Canada or in the completion of the Hudson Bay railway, and who is more than likely hostile to both.

The Department of Agriculture is now in control of a British Columbia representative, unanswerable to a community whose interests are not parallel with those of the prairie country and in some respects are diametrically opposed to them. Mr. Tomin, it may be supposed, stands for a tariff on fruit, and a good stiff one; an illustration of what the prairie farmer has to expect from him.

The Mackenzie King Government gave a full measure of representation to prairie Canada, in the number of Ministers, and also in the particular Departments committed to their charge.

In the Meighen Government, prairie Canada has the smallest possible amount of representation it could be given without being left out altogether, while the single Maritime representative in Canada is not in control of any of the Departments having to do with the development and settlement of the country.

Western Policies Die Ditch.

The Mackenzie King Government was condemned in Eastern Canada, is being condemned in the papers of Eastern Canada, today, because too many Ministers had been committed to the prairie provinces, and because they had been put in charge of Departments of the first importance.

The Halifax Herald and other Conservative papers in the Maritime provinces are openly hostile to the Department of Railways has been taken away from the West and restored to Eastern control. Whatever else that change involves, it is plainly contemptuous to mean that Canada's railway problems are heretofore to be viewed from the Eastern, not the Western, viewpoint.

Western Canada never held so advantageous a position in the national government as it did in the cabinet which was overthrown by the votes of Western Progressive leaders last month. That position pledged the Government to a continuance and development of a railway policy aimed directly to increase the population, production and prosperity of the West.

Western Canada's interests are openly played a minor role in the career of the Meighen Government. Not one of the three Departments having to do directly with Western progress is in control of a Western man. Two of them have been placed in charge of Ministers representing interests other than Western, and in some particular hostile to Western interests. The third Department is as yet in charge of nobody.

The slump that befell Western influence and prestige when the Mackenzie King Government was wrecked was not a temporary shrinkage, but a permanent loss. Mr. Meighen's maritime supporters have no notion whatever of surrendering the Railway Department again to Western control. The Conservative Party of Canada will regard the Agriculture Department as their permanent possession while the Meighen Government endures.

Western Canada lost out, and lost out heavily in the change of Governments. None the less, and none the less disastrously, because it was Western Progressive members of Parliament who destroyed the Government in which the West held a commanding position, and opened the way for a Government in which the West has only minimum representation, and no representation at all in respect to those Departments directly affecting Western conditions and prospects.

WHILE CHANGES ARE BEING MADE

Decided that she'd like to make a new room, just for delicacy's sake, and build another room, to be a summer chamber. "Yes," said I, "We'll make those changes in July."

I like the house the way it stands. Here I could dwell till death shall come. Without that tiled exterior. But since it's something she demands, This latest whim I won't deny. We'll make those changes in July.

Rip, carpenters, and bang about! On in it, I suppose, all day long. I'm on Lake Huron catching fish, I cannot hear the pliers and saw, So to it, fellows! There and gone! I shan't be there to hear a sound!

Two men through changes once before, He evulsed dust and tried to be. At home with various carpentry And one will not be far from here. When masses and plumbers enter here To look for grip and disapproval.

Now here beside the lake I sit. The while those workmen put up shelves And they'll break them off themselves. And they'll break them off themselves. It suits them better through the day To have the ocean breeze in their eyes.

DOLE FOR JAPAN
A movement is on foot to have foreign children and their parents sent to Japan and to be used at their annual doll festival.

The Japanese people have a beautiful family custom called the Hina Matsuri, or festival of the dolls, which comes every year on the third of March. On that day each family brings out its assortment of miniature dolls of preceding generations that get acquainted with the new ones. They are exhibited in connection with the dolls of the present day.

Little girls and older girls dress in gala costume and enjoy their ancestral dolls and those of the present day.

It is intended that the children of other countries shall send their dolls to the Japanese people to be used at their annual doll festival.

DOLE FOR JAPAN
A movement is on foot to have foreign children and their parents sent to Japan and to be used at their annual doll festival.

The Japanese people have a beautiful family custom called the Hina Matsuri, or festival of the dolls, which comes every year on the third of March. On that day each family brings out its assortment of miniature dolls of preceding generations that get acquainted with the new ones. They are exhibited in connection with the dolls of the present day.

VISION

Will you be RICH or POOR? It depends largely upon your VISION.

CAN YOU clearly see the conditions composing the oil situation in Alberta today? Can you read and interpret them and construct them into the bold picture of the future? Have you vision?

First you must see these conditions clearly. Here is a great area upon the eve of a big petroleum production—geologists freely predicting that it will be the world's greatest oil field, practical men proving up the structure, the attention of the "powers that be" in the industrial world fixed upon it.

You must then consider what this means. . . . Industry eagerly alert for the precious fluid, searching the globe for the hidden sources of the vital stuff which turns the wheels of the world.

CONSIDER that Canada is paying $120,000,000 a year to foreign countries for gasoline and petroleum products; that Alberta, with one well alone producing more gasoline than all the rest of Canada together, and with billions of dollars worth more under ground, is sending millions of dollars abroad to buy the product of foreign wells and refineries.

Consider that this money can be kept in Canada, much of it right here in Alberta, if we have the vision and enterprise to manufacture our own gasoline from our own crude oil. . . . Alberta Refineries Limited, a local company, is producing "Pep" gasoline from the crude oils of the Wainwright field, right at our door. The demand exceeds the present supply and the plant is being extended.

REFINERIES DISTRIBUTORS LIMITED, a company organized to market and distribute "Pep" products, to build and maintain "Pep" Service Stations and to extend these as fast as production is increased, now comes into the field to assist in this production.

This company will erect a "Cracking Plant" which, by means of a new scientific process, will extract from 50 to 70 per cent of gasoline from the Wainwright crude oil.

Refineries Distributors Limited will help to retain in Alberta the money that has been paid to foreign producing and refining companies. Its scope is wide, and in this pioneer basic industry lies one of the finest opportunities for Albertans to profit from the natural resources of the province.

CONSIDER these conditions carefully. Bring your faculties of vision to bear upon them. Can you see the trend of future events?

Exercise your qualities of courage and enterprise. Do not throw aside or put off the impulse which follows your consideration of this opportunity to participate in the glorious future of Alberta.

Vision and Enterprise are the qualities which make men rich. Exercise them now.

"PEP" is the appropriate name given to the gasoline product of Alberta Refineries Limited, produced from the crude oil of the Wainwright field.

"PEP" has justified its name as a lively, volatile, anti-knock gasoline which motorists insist upon after once having used it. Today the present "PEP" plant is inadequate for the demand.

+ Wonderful Work of the Cracking Plant

Prof. Gustav Egloff of the Universal Oil Products Company Research Laboratories, in a lecture before the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, spoke emphatically upon the wonderful economy and value of the "Cracking Plant" in the production of high grade anti-knock gasoline from crude oil.

He claimed, and showed by tests and actual production in many fields, that by the Dubbs process, from 50 to 70 per cent gasoline is extracted from the crude and showed that from the Kevin Sunburst crude this percentage is always obtainable. The heavier crude from the Smack-over field is mentioned as showing "the wonderful potentialities of this process."

"One of the wonder oil fields of the United States is the Smack-over Arkansas, which is still producing 140,000 barrels per day, of which 140,000 barrels (December 21, 1925), is heavy oil. This oil, of asphaltic characteristics, is not very satisfactory as a fuel oil for its emulsified water, high sulphur contents and other properties."

"The general inquiry when a new Smack-over well was brought in 'What will they do with it after they get it?'"

"One leading oil man stated that Smack-over 'Heavy crude' had everything in it it should not have for a refinery. Yet, despite these pessimistic statements, Smack-over heavy oil is being commercially cracked into over 30% gasoline. Smack-over heavy crude oil production of 140,000 barrels daily can be converted into 41,500 barrels of gasoline per day by the cracking process."

The results achieved from the Kevin Sunburst Fuel Oil presages those which will be accomplished by the Cracking Plant in treating the crude oil from the Wainwright field, as the chemical composition and gravity of the oils are almost identical.

"The Dubbs Process is so flexible that it converts any type of oil without change of principles or equipment into gasoline. Commercial plants are in operation or under course of construction in various parts of the world, such as Japan, Hormon, Java, and Dutch West India, Australia, Roumania, and many parts of the United States."

REFINERIES Distributors Ltd. was organized with a Dominion Charter, capitalized at $1,000,000, divided into 90,000 8% Preference Shares with a par value of $10.00 each; and 100,000 Common Shares with a par value of $1.00 each. Paid up capital is $200,000.

The company was organized to market the "PEP" products of the Albert Refineries Ltd., and also to produce gasoline and other products from crude petroleum by means of a cracking plant, this plant employing the Dubbs process, a great scientific and economic advance over the ordinary refining plant, extracting from 3 to 5 times as much gasoline from the crude oil.

The present issue, for the purpose of carrying on the immediate program of the company, is 30,000 Preference Shares, of which 10,000 shares have already been sold. The Preference Shares are offered in units of 1 at par $10.00, and each of these Preference shares carries a bonus of 1 Common Share.

The initial program of the company is to erect and maintain a number of Service Stations throughout the Province for the marketing of "PEP" gasoline and petroleum products, a profit of 8c per gallon clear of freight being available from this source alone at the present market prices.

Also to erect a "Cracking Plant at a cost of $150,000. This will have a capacity of 1,000 bbls. of crude oil and will produce from this a minimum of 300 bbls. of anti-knock gasoline every twenty-four hours. At 35 gallons to the barrel, this shows a total output of 17,500 gallons a day.

Apart from the individual profit of the cracking plant unit working at capacity, the output marketed through the service stations shows a distributing profit of $225.00 per day net. This alone will show a handsome dividend on the $1,000,000.00 capitalization in addition to the 8% per annum on the preferred shares.

Detailed figures will show this enterprise to be one of the very highest potentialities for profit. We shall be pleased to send a digest of the situation, based upon actual conditions, to the earnest investor.

In the meantime the soundness of the proposition will appeal to the investor who realizes that these pioneer enterprises in industry based directly upon natural resources, reap the rich reward.

"Among the faculties of mind which distinguish the rich man from the pauper, the most outstanding is Vision--the ability to see clearly conditions as they exist, to realize their significance, and to reason from them the trend of future events....Almost without exception, rich and potentially rich men are endowed with Vision.... Poor men are noticeably deficient in Vision"

"When the Standard Oil Trust was dissolved, it developed that 80 per cent of the profit in petroleum was made by the refining end."

"Petroleum is one of our most valuable natural resources. . . . The refining of petroleum must become our foremost industry."

"Early day gold seekers overlooked the rich sulphide ores which were almost pure gold, but which did not glitter. . . . Modern Science touched them with her magic hand. Millions of dollars were taken from the rocks of Goldfield, thrown aside by the placer miners looking for seeds of yellow gold. . . . Think this over!"
